

Angela Kukoda

Angela Kukoda is a director of municipal research at Seix Investment Advisors in Orlando, FL. She has expertise across a broad array of sectors, including state and local government tax-backed, transportation, and public power debt. Before joining Seix, Angela was head of public finance credit and research at Hilltop Securities Inc. where she developed credit strategies and provided structuring recommendations for municipal issuers throughout the US. Her experience also includes credit analysis for Radian Asset Assurance, Inc.; and J.P. Morgan, where she supported the firm's municipal sales, trading and underwriting activities. She began her career at S&P Global Ratings covering high-profile credits throughout the US, including a number of state-level issuers.

Angela earned a Bachelor's degree in Political Science, Magna Cum Laude, from New York University and a Master's degree in Economics from Columbia University.

She has been an active member of both the NFMA and the Southern Municipal Finance Society throughout her career. She is the current Vice Chair of the NFMA and has served as NFMA Treasurer and Chair of the Disclosure Committee.