

Neene Jenkins

Neene Jenkins is a member of the Global Fixed Income, Currency & Commodities (GFICC) group at JP Morgan Chase Asset Management where she is Executive Director. Based in New York, Neene leads municipal research efforts supporting Tax Aware strategies. Neene is also responsible for identifying investment opportunities in the High Yield and Investment Grade sectors. Prior to joining the firm in 2019, she was a senior vice president at Alliance Bernstein for 9 years, covering Municipal High Yield and Investment Grade sectors. Neene holds a B.A. in applied mathematics from the University of Buffalo and an MPA in public finance from the New York University's Robert F. Wagner School of Public Service, where she was also an adjunct professor. She is a member of the Society of Municipal Analysts, former Chair of the Education Committee and of the DEI Committee for the National Federation of Municipal Analysts (NFMA), currently Chair of NFMA and a board member of the Northeast Women in Public Finance.